Close readers of literary collections: Grade 11 Pg. 27 1.> A petition against slavery in Massachusetts has been filed. It has been pointed out that all men have the right to natural and inalienable freedom that God has provided to all of us. They did not give up their freedom, but it was taken away from them and their families. They were removed from peaceful and population-like countries and had a lot to feed their own people. >, they, in common with all others, have a natural and inalienable right to that freedom that the great parents of the universe have given equally to all mankind. In violation of the laws of nature and the nation, contrary to all the gentle feelings of mankind, they were brought here to sell like beasts of burden. Slavery life like your petitioner is much worse than everything you need to take away all social privileges and make life bearable > He means that every man has the right to freedom. Looking back, he says that this is a natural right given to all of us by God. They share with all other men their natural and inalienable rights to their freedoms that the great parents of the universe have given equally to all mankind.
